Evey M. Diaz focuses her practice exclusively in the area of domestic relations and the full spectrum of family law issues. She brings a precise, client-focused approach to the law, combining legal skill with common sense solutions to address clients' legal concerns. In the courtroom, her reputation for being honest, and her depth of legal knowledge, as applied to the facts of each client matter, provide the foundation for the kind of well-organized legal representation that clients deserve.

Evey began her practice at the firm of Gargas & Associates, a prestigious boutique family law firm in Boston's financial district. Thereafter, she practiced on Nantucket before returning to the Boston area and joining the firm of Partridge Ankner, LLP in Boston's back bay.

Evey was born in Greece and is fluent in Greek.
