Jordan P. Bowne focuses his practice on all areas of trusts and estates. He works directly with high net-worth clients to design, structure and implement estate planning, and tax minimization strategies. Jordan's practice also includes advising institutional and individual fiduciaries throughout the trust and estate administration process. He has experience advocating on behalf of trust and estate beneficiaries in resolving disputes with fiduciaries and other beneficiaries. Jordan also assists clients in pre-marital planning, including pre-nuptial agreements.

Jordan brings a well-balanced approach to his client representation, combining his knowledge of complex legal issues with a passion for developing creative solutions to best advance and achieve his clients' goals. Jordan counsels clients about the nuances of the law and the court process, drawing from his experience as a law clerk for the Massachusetts Probate & Family Court.

Prior to joining Casner & Edwards, Jordan was an attorney in the Private Client Group at Burns & Levinson LLP in Boston.
